

A security market infrastructure solution for SWIFT messaging

IntellectLink 7.0 is a fat client application for SWIFT message processing. It is a product especially developed for Security Market Infrastructures, such as broker-dealers, central state depositories, custodians, transfer agents and investment managers.

IntellectLink 7.0 differs from its IntellectLink web equivalent by only offering a limited number of message types (category 5), to specifically serve the needs of the above mentioned Security Market Infrastructures.

Through a user-friendly interface operators have access to category 5 message types of SWIFT, although the interface can be customized to only display the necessary message types and required fields according to the current business practices. Furthermore, IntellectLink can be quickly integrated with the existing back-office systems, can be easily updated and requires a minimum of investments.
